Costly Orchids. Nearly all the orchids found in Bennington are grown with a little care and attention in private gardens. There is one exception, a sweet-smelling species called tazia by the Bennington people, and which is usually brought to market in Christmas week in Rangeton. It only seems to flower in the most malarious and least frequented localities, and at a time of the year which is the tiger's mating season, and when they are most dangerous to human beings. It is in great demand by Bennington, and sells for its weight in silver.

Ahead of Engagements. Mary, who is the baby sister of girls in college, looks forward with delight to their week-end visits home and devotes herself entirely to them at such times. Recently, her sister noticed that as Mary knelt to say her little prayer she hurried through it, then began again and so on until she had repeated it almost breathlessly four times. Finally, she arose and exclaimed: "Now, I am prayed up for four nights and we can visit."

Janitor Hang Glass Gong.

New York university has just come into possession of an original photograph of the first janitor of that institution, equipped with the gong and stick with which he called the students to classes, says the New York Evening Sun.

When the university was founded, January 8, 1890, and students met in the original building back of the city hall, there was, of course, no electric bell ringing system. The responsibility of attendance at recitation was shunted onto the janitor.

Promptly on the hour he would proceed through the corridors armed with a huge metal gong in one hand and the gong stick in the other. Pausing outside the classrooms, he would heat his tattoo until the professor ceased his lecture and the students moved on to the next room on their program.

GREAT FUTURE FOR WIRELESS

Boys Who Plan to Make it Their Life Work Should Know and Appreciate Its Value.

Before going into practice instruction it is important that the boys who are to become the wireless men of the future should appreciate the value of such work. Wireless transmission of messages and of the human voice is becoming daily more common. In a few years the entire system of communication throughout the world may be transformed by wireless electricity, and it is important that boys should be able to take their part in it. The amateur wireless station is a great educator and gives the boys who equip and operate it an excellent education in the wonderful new science.

When the call came for wireless men for the great war the amateur operators were able to take a prominent part. Thousands of boys who had taught themselves how to build stations and run them were able to take important positions in wireless stations at sea and on shore. No other country had so vast an army of self-taught wireless operators to call on. Many of the boys who had taught themselves all they knew of the science rose to occupy important positions. It is not generally known that it was an amateur wireless man who was chosen to fly across the Atlantic on the NC-4 on her famous flight—Boys' Life.

HAS BOTH MEMORY AND SCAR

Two Excellent Reasons Why One Man Will Remember That He Was Kicked by a Mule.

A kick from a mule is guaranteed to make just about as much impression on the memory as it does on the anatomy. Yet Clyde D. Jarvis has made sure that he will not forget the kick he received from a Missouri beast of burden for the rest of his natural life.

Jarvis applied at Houston, Texas, for enlistment in the marine corps and was accepted. He exhibited a scar about six inches long on the left side of his abdomen, and explained it was the result of an operation he had undergone some six months before, for a supposed ruptured spleen, following the kick from the mule.

The operating surgeon had made the wrong diagnosis, however, and found that Jarvis' spleen was O. K. Tattooed above the scar in large letters were the words, "Opened by mule-kick."
